What happens after the consultation?

Tom Parks - 2025-09-07 - Appointments

After the consultation is complete and the prescriber has received all relevant information, including your consultation form and any test results, they will create a prescription if there is a clinical need for it.

Prescriptions are created on our eRoseway prescribing portal, which will send an email to you explaining the medication you have been prescribed and its cost.

The email will contain a link for you to make payment.

Once paid your order will be shipped. See our article, How long will it take to receive my medication?
